All contributions should be sent to Mrs. Herman Wright's residence by Friday morning.

As this promises to be a most enthusiastic meeting all members with their guests are urged to be present, thereby helping a good cause along with a good time.

Mrs. L. W. Boyd, Chairman.

See those beautiful white pigeons in the show window of Wm. Johnson and Son. They are from the "pigeonry" of Mr. Julius Booser, who knows how to raise pigeons, as well as to solicit subscriptions for a new steam laundry. One man said he had seen as large pigeons. That was before he knew where these came from. When he was told they were from the same place he had seen them the laugh was on him. Look at the pigeons—German Runt—and subscribe to the laundry.

MR. W. R. REID AND OTHERS IN AN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Mr. W. R. Reid, who had a shoulder and a hip broken in an automobile accident last Wednesday night and was taken to the Greenwood hospital, was later brought to his home in Newberry, Mrs. Reid having gone to Greenwood for that purpose. Mr. Reid is doing fairly well.

From the account in the Greenwood Journal it seems that Mr. Reid and Messrs. E. M. Martin, W. R. Keith, Leo Hamilton and Fred Summers of Chappells were enroute to Anderson in Mr. Martin's Ford to attend the night performance of Robinson's circus, when the car turned turtle. Besides the injury to Mr. Reid, Mr. Martin sustained a broken rib while Messrs. Keith and Hamilton got off with slight bruises. Mr. Summers jumped and escaped injury.

The accident was due to the fact that Mr. Martin, who was driving, attempted to cut off the throttle at the railroad crossing when his heavy glove caught on the throttle and gave more gasoline. The brakes were applied and the machine turned completely over, pinning the four men underneath.

Seabrook-Whitman.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Seabrook, of Westminster, Maryland, announce the engagement of their daughter, Frances Guyon to Mr. Ralph (Whitman), Civil Engineer, United States Navy. Miss Seabrook is a granddaughter of the late William L. W. Seabrook, and on her mother's side belongs to one of the oldest French Huguenot families in the country, a direct descendant of Jacques Guyon, to whom a grant of land on Staten Island, N. Y., was made in 1668. Mr. Whitman is the son of Mrs. Ella M. Whitman, of Boston, Mass., and the late Kilborn Whitman. He is descended from Pilgrim ancestry on his father's side and on his mother's side is the grandson of the late Hon. Joseph M. (Whitman), who was the Mayor of Boston in 1861, and before that an active promoter of the city's public school system. Mr. Whitman is himself a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, of the class of 1901. He was, in the fall of 1905 a visitor to the Isthmus of Panama, in the personal service of the International Board of Advisory Engineers, convened by President Roosevelt to assist in determining the type of canal to be adopted. In August 1907, he was commissioned Assistant Civil Engineer, United States Navy; and in May 1916 was commissioned Civil Engineer, U. S. N., with rank of lieutenant. He has performed duty in Philadelphia, Washington, Cuba and Annapolis. He is at present stationed at the Naval Academy, where he has been for the past three years. The wedding will take place before Christmas.

The announcement of the marriage of Miss Seabrook will be read with interest by many people in Newberry where she is pleasantly remembered as the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Seabrook. Mr. Seabrook was the beloved pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer which he served for several years prior to the coming of the Rev. Edw. Follenwider.

Mrs. Seabrook spent several weeks in Newberry during the present year on a visit to friends. Mr. W. B. Seabrook, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Seabrook a newspaper man of note, being now however in France with the ambulance corps of the French army. He received his first newspaper training on The Herald and News and for several months was connected with the Evening Telegram which we published.

The Herald and News wishes for the bride to be all the good things that this world holds. The Seabrooks all have a warm place in the heart of this editor.

Since writing the above we notice from the daily papers that Mr. and Mrs. William B. Seabrook have recently returned to America from the French front.

Automobile and Other Accidents
Automobile wrecks and killings are getting nearer home in their daily accidents. They were more numerous than usual the past few days, several occurring on the same day. The papers that carried the story of the awful accidents near Clinton, also carried stories of a woman killed and her husband fatally injured in the turning over of an automobile near Shreveport, La., the killing of two men when a train crashed into an automobile in Jeffersonville, Ga., and ten persons killed and eleven seriously injured in a railroad collision near Elwood, Neb. Only the day before an automobile ran off an embankment at a creek about two miles above Woodruff, injuring Mr. Harvey Campbell and family of Goldville, breaking Mr. Campbell's arm and severely cutting him about the head, cutting Mrs. Campbell about the head and badly bruising her and also injuring one of the children.

FOOTBALL

Newberry football fans will be given their first taste of the gridiron sport next Friday afternoon when Newberry College clashes with the strong Chick Springs Military Academy team. This is Chick Springs first year in intercollegiate football, but Newberry rooters may look for stiff opposition as a number of Riverside Military Academy's athletes are this year with the "Resort Cadets," and every Newberrian knows what Riverside is. Last week Wofford Fitting school was overwhelmingly defeated by Chick Springs 51 to 0, and Chick Springs used her second string men the latter half of the game. The contest Friday will be called at 3.45 p. m., College Park, general admission 9 cents, ladies and children 25 cents. Come out and see an extra game, and see the Indians in action for the time.

ENCOURAGE THE BOYS WITH THEIR COLLEGE ANNUAL

The senior class of Newberry college is desirous of publishing during the current session a college annual. This should have the encouragement of the citizens of Newberry and if the boys should come to any of our business men for a substantial commendation it should not be turned down. Of course it takes some money to get out a good annual such as the boys will get out, and it is a good thing for the town as well as the college, and the boys should be encouraged, as we believe they will be.

AULL RESIGNS TO ENTER PRESS WORK

Columbia Record.
John K. Aull, private secretary for John L. McLaurin, State warehouse commissioner, has tendered his resignation to Mr. McLaurin. The resignation takes effect on Wednesday. Mr. Aull will devote his entire time to the management of the Columbia bureau of The Charleston American, with which he has been connected for some months.

Mr. Aull is well known throughout South Carolina. He was private secretary to Former Governor Bleasdale until he accepted a similar position with Mr. McLaurin. Before entering on his duties as secretary to the former governor, he had much newspaper experience, working chiefly on the Newberry Herald.

He is well known among politicians and public men of this State, with whom his intimacy should prove valuable in newspaper work.

Mr. McLaurin has not announced Mr. Aull's successor.

The Planets For October.

From a Scientific Article.
Mercury will be in the western evening sky reaching its greatest distance from the sun on October 18. It will be too near the sun to be seen to advantage.

Venus will continue to be finely in view in the eastern morning sky throughout October. It will rise about 3 a. m. on the 1st, and about 4 a. m. on the 31st.

Mars is still in the Western evening sky, but is too distant to be well seen. It is in Libra on the 1st and in Scorpio on the 31st.

Jupiter is finely placed for observation in the early eastern evening sky. It rises about 7 p. m. on the 1st and will be in view all night throughout the month. It is in Aries.

Saturn rises shortly after midnight throughout the month and is beautifully in view near Pollux and Castor in the western morning sky.

Uranus is still in Capricornus, as shown on the map.

Neptune is still in Cancer in the morning sky.

Central Church, Newberry.

We have had two happy Sundays at Central. There has been upon the church an old debt dating back fifteen years to the time when the church and parsonage were built. The debt was cut in half by efforts made while Rev. M. L. Banks was pastor six years ago, but there still remained $4,500 and this has been a great burden on the church and a handicap to all forward efforts.

On the first Sunday a plea was presented to the congregation for lifting this debt at once. The people responded beautifully. I have never seen more cheerful unanimous cooperation. Subscriptions amounting to $3,500 were received that day. After a week of canvassing, we met again yesterday and wiped out the balance. The subscriptions are all for cash, payable before the first of December and we confidently expect when that day comes, to have not one dollar of debt upon our church property, one of the finest pieces of church property in the State, a whole block in the heart of the town.

We are all very happy about it. Practically everybody helped and helped gladly—that is the way it was done—the officials, the ladies of the ever-faithful Calendar Society, the whole membership all helped. We see in it the beginning of a new day for Central Church.

NOTICE TO CANDIDATES

For every $12.00 in subscriptions sent to the Campaign Department for, or by each Candidate, between Monday, October 16th and Saturday, October 28th, a voting certificate for 200,000 Extra Votes will be issued. Subscriptions may be for any length of time, it does not matter just so each club amounts to $12.00. There is no limit as to the number of clubs any candidate may send in. All subscriptions heretofore sent in, over and above the starting opportunity offer will be counted on this offer. This is the most liberal vote offer that will be made during the campaign.

The sunshine of the past few days was no more glorious than the opportunities The Herald and News is offering the candidates who have already started in this Great Circulation Campaign, as well as those who have only been thinking of entering. Yes, the sunshine of the past few days has been glorious, real autumnal days. These beautiful days remind the Campaign Manager when he used to roam around and listen to the blue birds whistle "Annie Laurie" and then he, too, began thinking some queer thoughts, that is they were queer to him. There is something about these mellow days that sort of calls him back to earth. You know, or, if you don't know it, he was born on a farm. Of course that should not be held against the farm. Just somehow, these balmy days make him feel a longing to get out and patter around with a spade or a plow, or go "a-fishing."

Do you know something about that feeling? Perhaps it is just a sort of call of the wild, rather to the wild, but he sits and plops along, trying to explain to the numerous readers of The Herald and News what a great opportunity is being presented to them and that's how he happened to think of that farm thing today. It occurred to him that there was a seed time in this campaign, as well as in every other field of human endeavor. The seed time in this Campaign is here.

Lying about every candidate and prospective candidate in this campaign are great fertile fields, waiting the proper cultivation to produce bountiful crops of votes. It all depends on the candidates. Some believe they can sort of scratch over the surface, plant at random and expect a good crop, but the successful "vote farmers" in this campaign are going to be the ladies who see that the soil is properly prepared before the seed is sown. What the campaign manager is trying to get at is, that the candidates who make a systematic campaign will reap the greatest harvest of votes.

This is just the beginning of this campaign; it is therefore, likewise, also seed time for those who have entered, or those who have been thinking of entering and who will take advantage of the largest Extra Vote offer that will be made during the remainder of the Campaign. Up to this time no score is so high that an hour or two each day will not overtake any leader in the campaign, or at least place any late entrance on an equal footing with the leaders.

A Busy Day.

The Herald and News Campaign office was delayed by an avalanche of votes Saturday, as will be seen by referring to the votes for the various candidates published today, and while the campaign has just begun, practically every subscriber has been sending in votes for some one.

The Herald and News circulation campaign and its valuable prizes are gradually becoming the main topic of conversation throughout the entire territory.

New candidates are entering daily and all appreciate fully that The Herald and News is launching such a mammoth circulation campaign has manifested its confidence in the prosperous condition of Newberry and surrounding counties by offering over $1,000 in prizes and cash awards. Practically every candidate published in the list today has entered the campaign on an equal footing and many who did not qualify on the starting opportunity offer, personally were fortunately enough to have their friends to do so for them.

Extra Vote Offer.

Today The Herald and News is announcing the most liberal and largest Extra Vote offer of the entire campaign. This offer added to the fact that next Saturday is the close of the first voting period, after which the regular votes will decline, will make this week the most important of the entire campaign. Every subscription large or small will count on this offer and those who take advantage of its provision will be among the proud possessors of the larger prizes.

WOODROW WILSON CAMPAIGN FUND

An Urgent Request.

The treasurer of the Democratic National Committee writes us that we have reached the critical period in the campaign; that we must have action, and have it quick. The Republican campaign will be financed by the moneyed interests of the North. The Democratic campaign must be financed by the people who want Woodrow Wilson reelected.

You find a subscription list at each of the Newberry Banks. The money paid will be forwarded promptly and will be put to work. Act now. We have less than one month in which to do what we are going to do.

If you prefer you can hand your contribution to any member of this committee or to a member of the ward committees.
